

Open your Heart 3:29

Don't you get tired?
Don't you want to just slow down?
Take some time, Baby, look around
And see where your'e going
You've got a lot on your mind
And I can see it in your eyes
Through the laughter, behind the smiles
There's sorrow showing
Open you heart
And let love inside you
It's not too late to start
Just let it go
Won't you open your eyes
Can't you see I'm waiting here
Looking through your disguise
I want to let you know
That times like a wheel that's turning
Forever forward
And we are the axis on which it turns
Life is an open highway
From which there's no return
While off in the distance bridges burn
So open you heart
And let love inside you
It's not too late to start
Just let it go
Won't you open your eyes
Can't you see I'm waiting here
Looking through your disguise
I want to let you know
I want to let you know
I want to let you know
I love you
